Frequently Asked Questions

Q1: What identification do I need to bring to the Pearson Professional Centre?

A1: Pearson requires specific forms of identification for verification purposes. Usually, a government-issued photo ID such as a driver's license or passport is required. It's crucial to check the specific requirements for your exam as these may vary depending on location and regulations. Always bring a second form of ID as a backup.

Q2: What happens if I arrive late for my exam?

A2: Lateness can result in the cancellation of your exam, and potentially forfeit your exam fee. Pearson's policy on lateness is typically very strict. It is advisable to arrive at least 30 minutes early to allow for check-in and any unforeseen circumstances.

Q3: Can I reschedule my exam?

A3: Rescheduling is typically possible, but there might be fees involved depending on the policies of Pearson VUE and your exam's specific rules. The available timeframe for rescheduling may also be limited. Contact Pearson VUE directly to inquire about rescheduling options and any associated costs.

Q4: What should I do if I experience technical difficulties during my exam?

A4: Immediately inform the proctor of any technical problems. They are trained to handle such situations and will either attempt to resolve the issue or arrange for alternative arrangements. Documenting the issue is crucial for any potential dispute resolution.

Q5: What is the Pearson Professional Centre's policy on personal belongings?

A5: Personal belongings are typically not allowed in the testing area. Pearson Professional Centres usually have secure lockers or designated areas for storing personal items. Check the specific rules for your selected centre to ensure you understand their policy. Bringing prohibited items can lead to exam cancellation.

Q6: What are the consequences of cheating or attempting to cheat on a Pearson VUE exam?

A6: Cheating or any attempt to compromise the integrity of the exam will result in serious consequences, including exam invalidation, a ban from future Pearson VUE exams, and potentially legal repercussions. Pearson takes academic dishonesty very seriously.

Q7: What types of accommodations are available for candidates with disabilities?

A7: Pearson VUE offers a range of accommodations for candidates with disabilities, including extended time, assistive technology, and alternative testing formats. Contact Pearson VUE well in advance of your exam to discuss your specific needs and arrange for necessary accommodations. Documentation of your disability will be required.

Q8: Where can I find the most up-to-date information on Pearson Professional Centre policies?

A8: The most accurate and current information can be found on the official Pearson VUE website. Check their policies page regularly, as changes may occur. Contacting their customer support directly is another reliable option if you have specific questions.
